The Disney/SBA National Entrepreneur Center has announced that it is changing its name to the Disney Entrepreneur Center to reflect its title sponsor.

Walt Disney World has completed its $1 million contribution to the center and has committed $350,000 more over the next three years.

In its fourth year, the downtown Orlando-based center is dedicated to the growth of small businesses. It provides emerging entrepreneurs and existing small business owners with counseling, training, financial assistance and a software laboratory with the research tools needed to become successful.
